Annual Free Seminar for Secondary Schools Diversity and Inclusion in Children's and Teen Literature and Publishing

The Seminar will be delivered live and online on Tuesday 27th April 2021 from 10-12

The session will be delivered by the publisher Knights Of followed by a discussion and question and answer session. After the break the author ?????????? Will talk about their writing and where they get their inspiration from for their novels followed by a question and answer session. The final session will be delivered by SLS staff talking about a selection of books on the themes of diversity and inclusion.

Course Outcomes:

- Delegates will have strategies to search and select a wide range of resources for students
- Delegates will be more confident in teaching students about diversity and inclusion in fiction and non-fiction texts
- Delegates will be more confident in ensuring they have a wide range of texts in their school library and classroom collections

Audience: LRC Managers and Librarians, Line Managers with library responsibility

Date: TBC

Cost: FREE to SLS subscribing schools

Bookings: Although the seminar is free, we would still like you to book places, so that we have an idea of numbers. The seminar is not limited to library staff. Line managers and other interested parties will all be welcome.

Please book a place by contacting SLS HQ on hq.sls@hants.gov.uk who will be happy to confirm your place.

BOOK CAFE

Webinar via Microsoft Teams

A virtual informal way for any interested member of a SLS subscribing school staff or Library volunteer to get together to discuss and share info and ideas about books they've read suitable for their age range

This will hopefully encourage staff to become more familiar with a wide range of books suitable for the students they work with and encourage them to read themselves.
